Dear students and staff of «Kazakh Ablai Khan University of International Relations and World Languages» JSC!

Against the background of an increase in the number of measles cases in Kazakhstan, in order to maximize the safety and health of students and staff of «Kazakh Ablai Khan University of International Relations and World Languages» JSC (hereinafter referred to as the University), the University administration has taken some restrictive measures to prevent the spread of measles among students and University staff.

To reduce the likelihood of the spread of an infectious disease, a mask regime has been recommended at University facilities, and the frequency of sanitary treatment of University facilities has been increased.

At the same time, we inform you that the sanitary and epidemiological norms of the Republic of Kazakhstan do not provide for the transfer to online format of training when registering cases of measles in organized groups.

The health and safety of each student and employee is important to us, with the provision of a planned format for conducting the educational process – the main task of organizing education in the training of qualified specialists, in connection with which the required measures recommended by the regulatory acts of the Republic of Kazakhstan in the field of healthcare are provided by the University.

Additionally, we note that the information disseminated in public and social networks about the massive measles infection of students at the University does not correspond to reality, is destructive in nature, and pursues the goal of forming an incorrect public opinion about the epidemiological situation within the University.

Several cases of measles have been identified among the contingent of students at the University, all patients have received the required medical care with concomitant hospitalization, at the moment the condition of the sick students is stable. The facts of the mass spread of the infectious disease measles within the University have not been recorded at the moment. In case of a significant deterioration of the epidemiological situation in the city of Almaty and the adoption of an appropriate resolution by the authorized body in the field of healthcare of the Republic of Kazakhstan, the implementation of the required measures will be ensured by the University administration.

The situation is under the control of the University management.

With respect,

Chairman of the Board – Rector

S. Kunanbayeva
